Bell Relay Service

The Bell Relay Service allows us to communicate over the phone with customers who use a TTY. A TTY is a telephone system used by people who are deaf or have hearing loss. Like a telephone, TTY's use telephone lines to communicate; however, the messages are typed into a keyboard rather than spoken and received visually on a monitor or print-out rather than heard. The TTY rings using flashing lights or vibrations.

The challenge:
TTY systems cannot call regular phone system and visa versa. Therefore, organizations that do not have TTY systems cannot offer services over the phone to their customers using TTY as they would to other customers. This is in conflict with the accessible customer service principle of equal opportunity.

How Bell Relay Helps:
For organizations that don't have TTY systems, Bell Relay acts as the link between TTY and telephone users, providing an operator who will receive typed messages from the TTY user and read them out to telephone user and then listen to the telephone user's messages and type them to the TTY user. This service is free and does not require users be Bell customers.

How it works:
To talk to a person who is deaf through the Bell Relay Service:
- Call 1-800-855-0511 (customers who are deaf and using TTY to call us dial 711).
- Give the operator your name, area code and telephone number.
- Give the name, area code and telephone number of the person you are calling.
- Speak slowly so the operator can type what you are saying.
- The operator will place the call and tell you to go ahead when the person you are calling answers.
- Remember: address the customer in your message, not the operator.
